

Client: Framestore

Industry: Post Production

“Dot Hill and 101 Data Solutions have been excellent partners, and we are very pleased with our choice. All of this was delivered under the original budget and has been in production without incident from the day it was brought online.”

Chief Technology Officer Framestore

Challenge

At the conclusion of Framestore’s largest post-production film they had generated a significant amount of data which needed to stay live while additional projects were being brought online. In this instance a significant amount of data was required to remain live with access times beyond the capabilities of their tertiary nearline disk storage and far beyond that of tape.

Solution

Under 101 Data Solutions guidance and after careful consideration of several alternatives, Framestore opted for the Dot Hill AssuredSAN 3000 Series as their nearline storage replacement based on excellent price/performance, reputation for reliability and storage density.

Results

- Vastly improved nearline storage density.
- Greater working storage set through increased nearline storage performance.
- Access to the latest RAID storage technology.
- Easy license-free storage capacity expansion.
- Vendor partnership committed to customer success.

Dot Hill

Dot Hill Systems Corp. is a recognized leader in software and hardware solutions for storing, sharing, protecting and managing data. Leveraging its proprietary Assured family of storage solutions, Dot Hill solves many of today’s most challenging storage problems – helping IT to improve performance, increase availability, simplify operations, and reduce costs. Dot Hill’s storage solutions deliver outstanding storage performance, efficiency, flexibility and scale.

Manage Data Better with 101 Data Solutions

101 Data Solutions can help you with managing data better. We look at the root cause of your data issues and apply our knowledge and products to help you with business efficiency.

Our UK wide network of fully accredited and experienced Data Storage experts work hard to offer the right solution for your business. With a full range of installation, project management and support services across all of our products, we offer industry leading solutions suitable to your technology and business needs.